Competa enjoys some of the best weather in Europe, this beautiful village is situated at an altitude of 670m in the Axarquia region of Andalucia in Southern Spain.

Competa is located at the foot of the Sierra Almajara, the snow capped range of mountains between Malaga and Granada that stretch down to the warm Mediterranean. Competa Weather is very special, the micro climate is exceptional and around Competa you will see an abundance of lemon trees, orange trees, mandarins, almond trees, avocados, figs, grapevines and olive trees.
